DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 - 4, 6, and 8 - 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kaluza (EP 0 872 210 A1 - cited by Applicant). Kaluza et al. teach an oximetry device and method that provides power conservation by only intermittently performing measurements. In order to optimize the relation between power consumption and measurement accuracy, a confidence value (signal quality) and analysis of variation in indicated SpO2 values are used to control timing between measurement cycles. Details are provided in column 5, line 32 - column 9, line 42.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5, 7, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaluza as applied to claims 1, 6, and 8 above. Kaluza teach that the timing between successive measurements can be varied (column 7, lines 11 - 39), but do not particularly teach the resulting duty cycles that correspond with high confidence and low confidence situations. However, it would have been within the skill level of the art at the time of the invention to perform routine experimentation to determine appropriate timings between successive measurements, including the duty cycles as claimed, to provide accurate measurements for different confidence levels.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Omum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1 - 3 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 8 and 10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,697,658. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the instant application are broader than those of the patent. Thus, any method meeting the limitations of the patent would necessarily meet those of the instant application, as well.
